Beginning July 27, the children will become part of a team of dynamic, investigative "campers" that will use science to discover the essence of green- from plants to chemical reactions, light, energy, the environment and much more. So grab your safety glasses and join us in the lab this summer to dissect, mix, measure, build and break apart the science of green. Children will be bussed over to the College of Southern Idaho to participate in this amazing opportunity. August 2-6 ~ The College of Southern Idaho ~ 9:00-12:00
